

Logotype

ТАНЧЕ

Horizontal (a logo with the icon and text arranged in a single line):
When to use: In website headers, on horizontal banners, business cards, document letterheads, and anywhere there is a height restriction but sufficient width.

Vertical logo

TAHCHE

Vertical (a logo where the icon is placed directly above the text):
When to use: On vertical media, social media profile pictures, square or vertical signs, packaging, and presentation title slides.

Mark-only

TAHCHE

Mark-only (graphic symbol or emblem only, without text):
When to use: As a website favicon, mobile app icon, photo watermark.

TAHCHE

Wordmark (the text-only portion of the logo in a custom typography):
When to use: When the company name plays a key role for memorability, in minimalist design, in advertising campaigns where large brand typography is important, or if the icon loses readability at small sizes.

Clearance area

Clear Space: Always maintain a mandatory margin of empty space around the logo.
Prohibition: Placing text, graphic elements, or layout boundaries within this clear space is strictly prohibited.

Logo Usage Guidelines

1. Light Background

- Primary Version: Use the full-color logo in its standard brand execution.
- Contrast: Ensure the background is sufficiently light (ideally pure white or light gray tints) so that all logo elements remain sharp and legible.
- Prohibited: Using light or white logo elements on a light background, as they will blend into the surface.

2. Dark Background

- Inversion: Use the dedicated version of the logo (white or light monochrome) to ensure maximum contrast.
- Legibility: All details and outlines of the logo must stand out clearly against the dark background (deep black, dark gray, or a branded dark shade).
- Prohibited: Placing the standard full-color dark logo on a black or dark background without a container or backing.

3. Gray Background

- Version Selection:
 - On a light gray background, use the standard full-color logo.
 - On a dark gray background, use the inverted (white) logo version.
- Contrast Rule: If the contrast between the gray background and the logo elements is insufficient (below acceptable contrast ratio standards), use a brand container (backing) in a contrasting color.

Hierarchy

Superheader

- Purpose: Concise headings of 2–4 words, maximum two lines.

Header 1

- Purpose: Headings up to 3 lines of text. Suitable when the heading contains long words.

Header 2

- Purpose: Lower typesetting density.
- Scale: 100% if it is the only heading in the layout; 25%, 33%, or 40% if a higher-level heading is present.

A little less loud,
but still impactful.

One- or two-line subhead.
Use the Bold font weight.

Product communication headlines
or second-level subheadings in the text

For body text, we use the highly readable Arial typeface. It pairs harmoniously with the display typeface, allowing for the setting of long passages and small text blocks while maintaining the brand's distinctive typographic character.
